25~27 August, 2016 | Hanyang University ERICA Campus

Dear Sports Scientists,

Welcome to Ansan, Korea!

It is my honor and pleasure to host The 28th International Sport Science Congress – In commemoration of the 1988 Seoul Olympic Games. This conference aims to offer an platform in the global sport community to address the topic of ‘Sport Science Goes Beyond the Horizon.’ As our society continues to evolve, sports science is becoming more important, as it provides us with more valuable information in various areas such as disease prevention, human performance advancement, health improvement, and sport industry development. We are sure to convince that you will earn valuable experiences from this congress, and that your meaningful participation will deepen and enrich the quality of discussion on your areas of expertises during plenary sessions in the congress.

Finally, I appreciate all who has helped and supported for the success of this congress

Thank you.
